Hi It's Erin Elizabeth here!

The photo above is taken in the 90s of me and my late Uncle Tom (also my Godfather) author, attorney and activist who was one of the pioneers questioning vaccination safety in his book, and major magazines and publications starting back in the 70s. I elaborate on that below.

I know many of you said you wanted to see Dr Joe Mercola, me plus the 60 holistic doctors and experts in the free viewing of The Truth About Vaccines, but didn't have time to watch each new episode out each day.

It was the same when we were in the Truth About Cancer. The good news is that until 12:00 Midnight EST you can watch them ALL for free.

No need to sign up. No email! (I know some of you will appreciate that)

Just click here now and watch. Again, It's free all weekend and this is the FINAL viewing with nothing to enter... Just hit play.

I'm binge watching this afternoon while I do other things!

I loved being able to share my personal stories in this 7 part series and just want to share.

XO Erin Elizabeth

PS I'm in episodes 1 and 2 so far, and watching the rest right now. I found our friend and colleague Barbara Loe Fisher's testimony (she's the founder of National Vaccine Information Center in Washington DC's) particularly touching.

Barb worked with and knew my Godfather, Uncle Tom (who is pictured above) back in the day. Tom was my father's brother. Not long after my vaccine injury and hospitalization in the 70s, Tom wrote a book questioning vaccination safety and additives. He published that book in 79' with his best friend, the famous Bob Mendelsohn MD who did the introduction and even stayed at their home. He even appeared on the front of the Vegetarian Times 35+ yrs ago on this very subject.

His best friend, Dr Mendelsohn, was my better half Dr Mercola's biggest influence) All of us are from Chicago and the roots go deep. I don't say this often, but My Uncle and Dr Bob were the pioneers of this movement in the 70s who helped make it what it is today. Some say they led the way. May they both rest in peace.
